

Radiation Oncology Info Sheet

Cancer

Unit schedule – Day position

no weekends or holidays

Type of open positions:

- RN full time day position
- MA full time days
- RN staff currently work 4 nine hour shifts

Contact Terry Corbo RN, BSN,

OCN- Manager of Radiation

Oncology for more information

Terry.corbo@trinityhealthofne.org

Our Mission

We, Trinity Health Of New England, serve together in the spirit of the Gospel as a compassionate and transforming healing presence within our communities.

Our Core Values

- Reverence
- Commitment to Those Who are Poor
- Justice
- Stewardship
- Integrity

What's a Radiation Oncology Nurse?

A radiation oncology nurse works in collaboration with the radiation oncologist and the radiation therapists in caring for adult patients receiving radiation treatment for cancer. The nurses' role is to assess the patient's response to the treatment as well as to assist with the patient's comfort, education and promoting overall well-being. The MA role consists of rooming patients, stocking the department and scheduling among other duties.

Prior Experience required/suggested

Previous oncology experience is a plus, but strong medical surgical nursing experience is welcome. Prefer 5 years' experience in nursing.

Orientation

- 6 weeks orientation.
- Oncology certification (OCN) is strongly encouraged.

Good to know!

- Work closely with Medical Oncology and GYN oncology
- 100 % of our nurses are oncology certified

Shadow Options

Monday to Friday 7:30 to 4:00